KACIN GENERAL CONTRACTORS
COMPLETES PAIR OF PROJECTS
FOR AMEDISYS HOME HEALTH SERVICES

Murrysville, PA, June 15, 2010 – KACIN General Contractors recently finished the build-out of two offices for Amedisys in Uniontown Mall, an enclosed shopping center in Uniontown, PA, and in Pullman Square, a strip mall in Butler, PA. The Uniontown location is 8,500 square feet, and the Butler space is 3,600 square feet. Both projects were completed within tight, ten-week timeframes and are examples of alternative, non-retail use of mall space. In both instances, KACIN worked directly with the mall owners to accommodate Amedisys’s moves from other buildings in the local areas.

“These projects demonstrate our ability to meet the most demanding schedules while following tenant specifications exactly,” says Jeff Ferris, vice president, KACIN General Contractors. “The timetables and results of both jobs underscore our ability to deliver projects on-time and on-budget while performing top-quality work.”

Amedisys is a leading provider of home health care and hospice services, with agencies located across the United States and Puerto Rico. The company is headquartered in Baton Rouge, LA.

KACIN General Contractors manages the design and construction of commercial and industrial facilities throughout southwestern Pennsylvania. The company is headquartered in the Pittsburgh suburb of Murrysville and was established 50 years ago. KACIN’s other division, A. Richard Kacin, Inc., specializes in the design and construction of residential communities.
